

Talks and workshops on careers and generative AI

— WHO I AM

I'm Pat Leomi. I'm a communication coach who supports career development and professional AI use. I design talks and workshops around what I've done, observed, tested, and refined. Over half my appearances have focused on generative AI for career development or workplace use. Audiences included undergrads, grads, researchers, staff, faculty, and working professionals.

— WHAT I CAN TALK ABOUT

We'll design a custom talk or workshop for your audience's needs. Here's a few ideas:

- Using generative AI in the job search for in-house career exploration and promotions
- Professional development training for workplace AI enablement
- Building applications that sound like and appeal to humans, written with or without AI
- Cultivating an authentic LinkedIn presence focused on what you want to be known for

— HOW I TALK ABOUT IT

Timing

- 60-minute talks
- Workshops (short, ½, full day)
- Multi-session series

Location

- In person, Boston
- In person worldwide (with constraints)
- Remote anywhere (not recorded)

Q&A always included. Available for retainer for as needed coaching and consulting.
